Saint Mary of the Annunciation Danvers

In its earliest days, Salem Village (now Danvers) had a few residents whose heritage was Irish and Catholic. Danvers was separated from Salem in 1752 and together with the area now known as Peabody, became a separate town. Until the year 1842 the Irish residents probably could be counted on one hand. That year saw the Irish population begin to rise, the result of increasing immigration. Their desire to attend Catholic services helped to ease the five-mile trip to Salem in all manner of weather. Walking or riding in horse and buggy, these early Catholics usually spent the entire day attending services in Salem. Eventually the influx of immigrant Catholic Irish in Danvers, coupled with the arrival of Italians and Poles, led to a need for Catholic services in the town.

In 1853 Danvers became a mission of Salem's St. James Parish; in the next year Catholic services came to Danvers. Father Thomas Shahan celebrated the first Mass in Danvers on November 1, 1854 in the home of Edward McKeigue at 305 Maple Street.

The first public Catholic service in Danvers was held in the old Franklin Hall located on the Square. Father Shahan also held Sunday school in the hall. For a short time following, services were held regularly in a chapel located just south of the High Street Cemetery.

The original edifice that housed the Annunciation Church was a structure on High Street built by the Universalist Society in 1833. The building, with its land, was purchased from the Society by the Bishop John B. Fitzpatrick for $2500.00 on July 1, 1859. The altar for this original Annunciation church was made by two brothers living in Danvers. They moved it to the church in a wheelbarrow and set it in place in the sanctuary — no easy feat! Danvers now had a Catholic Church but the services were sporadic and were still conducted by clergy from Salem.

On April 30, 1871, the church, enlarged and remodelled, was dedicated by Bishop John J. Williams and was named St. Mary of the Annunciation. The first marriage witnessed there was on February 2, 1865, for the wedding of Dennis Sullivan and Bridget Cafey. It served in that location as Danvers' Catholic Church for 78 years until 1937.

Through the efforts of Danvers' pastors, St. Rose of Lima Chapel in Topsfield was established (1912). Sunday Mass was made available in Middleton, during the pastorate of Father James Canarie (1928-1943), who also built the new church for St. Mary on Conant Street. The new church was brought about because the original church stood in the path of the contemplated Route 128 which brought about its demolition. On November 7, 1937, 83 years after the first Catholic service in Danvers, the beautiful Romanesque edifice was opened.

A rectory for the clergy was an important priority for Father Canarie, but he was forced to set aside his plans when World War II intervened. After his death in 1948, the plans for a new rectory passed to Father Stephen O'Brien. When peace came in 1945, he immediately moved to implement plans for the new rectory. John A. McPherson of Boston, the architect for the church building, was engaged again. The twenty-two room rectory, along with the church, now presents an impressive site on Conant Street and is a great tribute to all past and present Catholics of Danvers who gave so generously.

For a long time the desirability of a parochial school was recognized. Even before the construction of the rectory was accomplished, the next great project was being formulated. By this time the population of Danvers had mushroomed as a result of the post war housing boom. Catholics of all nationalities had moved into the Annunciation Parish, and the Sunday School, held after the nine o'clock Mass, presented a desperate situation of overcrowding. It was apparent to all that the time had come to build a school.

On Wednesday, July 16, 1958, a large crowd gathered to witness the cornerstone laying ceremonies. In spite of the heat and humidity, they gladly watched as Archbishop Richard J. Cushing (soon to be Cardinal) touch a golden trowel to the cement. Construction produced a spacious auditorium and 16 classrooms accommodating a total of 900 students with a spacious cafeteria and ultramodern kitchen facilities.

By September of 1958, The Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur welcomed the first students, numbering 225, who were enrolled in the first grade through the third grade. In each succeeding year, additional classes were enrolled until all the rooms were occupied. In 1964 an extension was added, raising the classroom total to 24.

The first graduation ceremonies were held in June 1964 with a graduating class numbering 49 children. Father O'Brien, now Monsignor, did not live to witness this memorable event. His death in February 1963 had greatly shocked and saddened the parishioners of the Annunciation Parish, but the fine school remains as a testimonial to his great accomplishments.

The Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur had no permanent home near their school. Each day they were transported back and forth from their temporary quarters in Beverly. So plans were drawn for a convent on the school property and ground broken in 1959. The convent was completed in 1960 and again the parish of St. Mary of the Annunciation was complimented by the entire community for its outstanding building complex located on Otis Street.

The parish has continued to flourish over the years, guided by distinguished pastors: Monsignor John J. Murray (1967-1973), Father Charles Sheehy (1974-1986), Father James Lyons (1986-1991), and Father Gerard Dorgan (1991-2012). The most recent pastor, Father Michael Doyle (since 2012) faced the challenge of spaces outgrown. His renovations completed in 2015 involved building the new transept, seating 100, and creating a new chapel for daily Mass at the rear of the church, as the former chapel became the much-used hospitality room, appropriately named now for Father Dorgan. Most importantly Father Doyle renovated the main church, with a beautiful new sanctuary, marble altar and a splendid crucifix above.

The Archdiocese of Boston

The map illustrates the geographical distribution of the Archdiocese of Boston, divided into five distinct regions, each color-coded and labeled in the legend:

- Central Region (Yellow): Includes the core urban areas of Boston, Brookline, Brighton, Cambridge, Somerville, and Chelsea.
- Merrimack Region (Orange): Located to the north and west of the Central Region, including towns like Lowell, Haverhill, and Merrimack.
- North Region (Purple): Situated to the northeast, encompassing areas such as Lynn, Salem, and Peabody.
- South Region (Blue): Covers the southeastern part of the archdiocese, including Milton, Quincy, and Weymouth.
- West Region (Green): Occupies the western portion of the archdiocese, including Framingham, Needham, and Weymouth.

Each region is further subdivided into individual parishes, with names labeled on the map. The Central Region is the most densely populated with parishes, while the other regions have fewer but more spread-out communities.

Eastern Catholic Churches

The Roman Catholic Church is a worldwide family of Churches. This family has two large branches — Eastern and Western, and within each of those there are several further groupings.

The Western branch consists of the Latin Church, the Ambrosian Church and the Mozarabic Church. The Latin is the largest of the western churches and of all the Roman Catholic Churches in the world.

The several Eastern Catholic Churches fall into one or another of several large traditions: Alexandrian, Antiochean, Armenian, Chaldean or Byzantine.

Those Eastern Catholic Churches designated with an * before them have parishes or missions here in the archdiocese and are listed on the following pages. While each is within the territory of the archdiocese, each has its own eparch (diocesan bishop).

CLIENT TESTIMONIALS

Now that the Rectory construction is complete I wanted to take a moment to thank you for the wonderful design work you provided, not only on this project, but also on the construction of the kitchen and the lower church. ... I believe any parish or school will be fortunate to have you serving as their architect or planner for their projects.

Father Christopher Hickey, Holy Mothers Collaborative

We couldn't be happier with our new Math, Science and Technology Wing and over all renovations to our campus. Internally our school looks brand new. I highly recommend Steve Habeeb and his Associates from developing your Master Plan through completion of the final project. They were always available for any unforeseen circumstances. The staff is highly professional and wonderful to work with.

Sarah J. Adanti, Advancement
Director, East Catholic HS

...Our experience with Habeeb & Associates has been very positive. The initial assessment was honest and complete. The design for the addition is well done and works well with the existing building. Deadlines are always met...

Sister Barbara A. Barry,
SNDdeN, President
Notre Dame Academy

Our experience in working with you has been very positive. Starting with the Master Planning Process, and moving through design to construction you and your staff provided us the leadership, direction and professionalism that we were looking for.

We had over 500 people at the Mass, which was held in the church parking lot. The lot is quite expansive and allows the people to be very spread out, but they have a very good sound system and an elevated platform with the altar and the presider's chair, so everyone can hear and see very well.

The law establishes within the Department of Homeland Security, a Nonprofit Security Grant Program, which makes grants available to tax exempt organizations determined to be at risk – for target hardening and other security enhancements to protect against terrorist attacks. This new grant program will issue more than $375 million in security-related grants to houses of worship across all religions, as well as other nonprofit organizations.

Thank You.

St. Peter's Basilica, Vatican, is the largest church in the world. Its size creates special challenges for an organ. Large scaling of an instrument creates excessive volume near the organ, but still not enough to fill the entire sanctuary. The Vatican chose an Allen Organ with a flexible audio solution to resolve this challenge. During the 2017 Christmas Eve celebration, a new Allen GeniSys Organ was used throughout the Mass, as heard worldwide in a live telecast.

Allen Organ Company has installed organs in many prestigious institutions. Now, including the Vatican on the top of this list is humbling.

I offer a huge "thank you" and congratulations to all involved in the many efforts and events over the years that led to this amazing story.

Sincerely,

Steven A. Markowitz, President
Allen Organ Company

As the local Allen Organ representative, G. Paul Music has been honored with many notable installations throughout the Boston Archdiocese. Please contact us to learn how we can serve your Parish.
